

IN BRIEF

Accra Technical University (ATU) has signed a five-year tenancy agreement with the East Cantonments Pharmacy Limited (ECPL). The agreement which commences today, 26th November 2021 and may be renewed after its expiry for a further term, was inked at the University's Council Chamber.

ATU Signs Tenancy Agreement with East Cantonments Pharmacy Limited

Accra Technical University (ATU) has signed a five-year tenancy agreement with the East Cantonments Pharmacy Limited (ECPL). The agreement which commences today, 26th November 2021 and may be renewed after its expiry for a further term, was inked at the University's Council Chamber.

According to the agreement, ECPL will occupy three shop spaces of the University's Stores Building.

Signing the pact, the Vice-Chancellor of Accra Technical University, Professor Samuel Nii Odai, appreciated the partnership between the University and the ECPL and said he looked forward to even bigger partnerships and collaborations in future between the two institutions.

The Managing Director of ECPL, Mr. Ebenezer Bediako Amofo-Hene, on his part, said he was elated and privileged to have entered this agreement with a reputable institution like ATU.

The Accra Technical University part of the agreement was signed by the Vice-Chancellor, Professor Samuel Nii Odai and witnessed by the Registrar, Mrs. Sylvia Beatrice Oppong-Mensah whilst the Managing Director of ECPL, Mr. Amofo-Hene, signed for his company and witnessed by Mrs. Gladys Bediako Amofo-Hene, the Deputy Managing Director.

ECPL is a wholly owned Ghanaian business and a leading distributor of healthcare products and services on the Ghanaian market.

IN BRIEF

Accra Technical University (ATU), in a bid to deepen the effort of enriching students' practical learning experience has signed Memoranda of Understanding with eight companies that specialise in craftsmanship.

ATU Signs MoU with 8 Companies

Accra Technical University (ATU), in a bid to deepen the effort of enriching students' practical learning experience has signed Memoranda of Understanding with eight companies that specialise in craftsmanship.

In a memorable ceremony held on Thursday, December 2, 2021 at the University's Council Chamber, the University agreed with recognised players in the Fashion, Built, and Engineering industries to provide students with the needed hands-on training to equip them for the world of work. The industry partners included Beniels Designs, Alfie Designs, Royal Dennis, Samson Kreation, Shik Collection, Waxzin Textiles, Furnart Company Limited, and Kristo Asafo Technology Centre.

Addressing the gathering, Prof. Samuel Nii Odai, the Vice-Chancellor of ATU, expressed his joy and appreciation for the signing noting that it will open up channels for co-operation between the University and the eight entities. He added that it was imperative for ATU to collaborate with industry, acknowledging that a blend of academia and industry is one of the sure ways of fulfilling the University's philosophy of providing relevant technical/vocational skills for immediate employability or job creation.

Adding their voices, representatives of the partnering companies registered their appreciation to the University for formalizing a relationship that has existed between them for a while now through its faculties and departments. They added that these partnerships would be beneficial to students and staff. Furthermore, the staff of these companies will also get the opportunity to receive the needed academic training and the use of facilities, machines, and other equipment as enshrined in the agreement.

Some personalities that graced the occasion included the Pro-Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Amevi Acakpovi, Registrar, Mrs. Sylvia Oppong-Mensah, other key officers, Deans, and Heads of Departments and other staff of ATU.

It is expected that the impact of these collaborations would further consolidate the gains already made in Competency-Based Training education provided by ATU.

THIS WEEK

PRODUCED BY THE PUBLIC AFFAIRS DIRECTORATE